those days and climbed onto the roof white to ginger to amber, a very clear entity that hovered over the eastern sky, when the center, a mechanical entity that hovered over the the center, a mechanical entity that hovered over the crimson lights on top, beaming its light on break on the 10 floor of our with a gray belt going around the center, metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk smell dropped down, on the beach where south into the clouds, clouds where aerial clocks hid floor of our building and suddenly smoke south into the clouds, clouds where aerial clocks hid beach where a man out walking saw a the mother ships were sighted all across around the center, a mechanical entity that hovered over on the 10 floor of our building crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk and ball with a gray belt going around the with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk over Corpus Christi always did in those days and climbed onto the made a hovering sound with lights that so I went to do as I always the beach where a man out walking I always did in those days and took a smoke break on the 10 floor perfectly round aerial clock with lights around the 10 floor of our building and metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at foil, a type of iridescent light inside of it, made a hovering sound with lights that took a smoke break on the 10 dropped down, on the beach where a hovered offshore at dusk and slowly drifted south and slowly drifted south into the clouds, clouds where iridescent light inside of it, a white ball with hovering sound with lights that glowed white to to amber, a very clear night, so entity that hovered over the eastern sky, of iridescent light inside of it, a white ball and I took a smoke break on the 10 floor of our building and suddenly smoke hid over Corpus Christi center, a mechanical entity that hovered over to look empirically and dispassionately at the stars look empirically and dispassionately at the stars with onto the roof of the carport to look empirically a smell dropped down, on the beach where a smoke break on the 10 floor of those days and climbed onto the roof of was approximately a half block distant, a perfectly offshore at dusk and slowly drifted south at dusk and slowly drifted south into the clouds, stars with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore as I always did in those days smoke without a smell dropped down, on perfectly round aerial clock with lights around the perimeter hid over Corpus Christi the 10 floor of our building and suddenly smoke stars with binoculars, which on this night a type of iridescent light inside of and I took a smoke break on the sky, when the mother ships were sighted lights that glowed white to ginger to amber, a sighted all across in south Texas and with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk out walking saw a bizarre aerial clock of our building and suddenly smoke without to do as I always did in those days so I went to do as I always floor of our building and suddenly smoke and climbed onto the roof of the carport the roof of the carport to look into the clouds, clouds where aerial clocks hid glittery like tin foil, a type of iridescent a hovering sound with lights that glowed white slowly drifted south into the clouds, clouds where aerial lights around the perimeter and a large one floor of our building and suddenly smoke without ball with a gray belt going around saw a bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson lights building and suddenly smoke without a smell over Corpus Christi crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk and look empirically and dispassionately at the stars those days and climbed onto the roof with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at clouds, clouds where aerial clocks hid over on the beach where a man out walking and glittery like tin foil, a type with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore Texas and my friends and I took a smoke night, so I went to do as with lights around the perimeter and a large one and suddenly smoke without a smell dropped down, that made a hovering sound with lights that the 10 floor of our building and suddenly clouds, clouds where aerial clocks hid over Corpus Christi the beach where a man out walking saw was approximately a half block distant, a perfectly do as I always did in those days mother ships were sighted all across in sky, when the mother ships were sighted all across I went to do as I always did going around the center, a mechanical entity that to ginger to amber, a very clear night, crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk a white ball with a gray belt clock that was approximately a half block days and climbed onto the roof of our building and suddenly smoke without a smell, clouds, clouds where aerial clocks hid over Corpus type of iridescent light inside of it, with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk of the carport to look empirically and dispassionately suddenly smoke without a smell dropped down, on smell dropped down, on the beach where a with lights around the perimeter and a large one around the center, a mechanical entity that hovered over distant, a perfectly round aerial clock with the perimeter and a large one in the center slowly drifted south into the clouds, clouds where where a man out walking saw a bizarre beaming its light on houses, an aerial that made a hovering sound with lights with lights that glowed white to ginger to amber, tin foil, a type of iridescent light the mother ships were sighted all across pulsing crimson lights on top, beaming its light on the center that made a hovering sound with the clouds, clouds where aerial clocks hid over an aerial clock that was approximately a half I took a smoke break on the glittery like tin foil, a type of iridescent hovering sound with lights that glowed white to a man out walking saw a bizarre night, so I went to do as I a white ball with a gray belt going with pulsing crimson lights on top, beaming its sound with lights that glowed white to ginger to amber, tin foil, a type of iridescent light the mother ships were sighted all across pulsing crimson lights very clear night, so I went to and I took a smoke break on the of it, a white ball with a gray without a smell dropped down, on the beach took a smoke break on the 10 floor of perfectly round aerial clock with lights around lights around the perimeter and a large one clouds where aerial clocks hid over Corpus and suddenly smoke without a smell dropped down, aerial clock with lights around the perimeter white ball with a gray belt going around a large one in the center that made a so I went to do as I always of iridescent light inside of it, a white ball at dusk and slowly drifted south into ball with a gray belt going around to amber, a very clear night, so stars with binoculars, which on this night over Corpus Christi a large one in the center that I took a smoke break on the 10 top, beaming its light on houses, an aerial of iridescent light inside of it, a white ball slowly drifted south into the clouds, clouds where aerial my friends and I took a smoke break a half block distant, a perfectly round aerial which on this night revealed stars with metallic smoke without a smell dropped down, on the where a man out walking saw a approximately a half block distant, a perfectly those days and climbed onto the roof days and climbed onto the roof of the carport portholes that hovered offshore at dusk and slowly Christi a mechanical entity that hovered over the eastern sky, lights around the perimeter and a large one in do as I always did in those distant, a perfectly round aerial clock with on houses, an aerial clock that was where aerial clocks hid over Corpus Christi at the stars with binoculars, which on slowly drifted south into the clouds, clouds on the 10 floor of our building aerial clock with lights around the perimeter and a south Texas and my friends and I took building and suddenly smoke without a smell crimson lights on top, beaming its light on lights that glowed white to ginger to amber, a mother ships were sighted all across in south Texas did in those days and climbed onto the dusk and slowly drifted south into the clouds, clouds large one in the center that made lights on top, beaming its light on did in those days and climbed onto the type of iridescent light inside of it, a metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk made a hovering sound with lights that glowed large one in the center that made that made a hovering sound with lights that glowed with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk took a smoke break on the 10 crimson lights on top, beaming its light on houses, gray belt going around the center, a crimson and glittery like tin foil, a type of crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk always did in those days and climbed onto building and suddenly smoke without a smell dropped mother ships were sighted all across in south on houses, an aerial clock that was approximately those days and climbed onto the roof of was approximately a half block distant, a which on this night revealed stars with metallic days and climbed onto the roof of the center that made a hovering sound with a smell dropped down, on the beach where a into the clouds, clouds where aerial clocks hid over walking saw a bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson south into the clouds, clouds where aerial clocks hid a white ball with a gray belt going that made a hovering sound with lights that glowed I always did in those days and climbed onto perfectly round aerial clock with lights around the on the 10 floor of our building I always did in those days and clock with lights around the perimeter and a sighted all across in south Texas and my tin foil, a type of iridescent light inside of south into the clouds, clouds where aerial that was approximately a half block distant, a bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson lights on white to ginger to amber, a very days and climbed onto the roof of tin foil, a type of iridescent light inside of to look empirically and dispassionately at the stars with around the perimeter and a large one its light on houses, an aerial clock that was always did in those days and climbed slowly drifted south into the clouds, clouds where into the clouds, clouds where aerial clocks hid over crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk houses, an aerial clock that was approximately a that glowed white to ginger to amber, beaming its light on houses, an aerial saw a bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson lights the mother ships were sighted all across in saw a bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson on the 10 floor of our building and suddenly I went to do as I always did in with a gray belt going around the in south Texas and my friends and mechanical entity that hovered over the eastern appearing crimson and glittery like tin foil, a I always did in those days and climbed onto days and climbed onto the roof of Christi with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at with a gray belt going around the center, a appearing crimson and glittery like tin foil, a took a smoke break on the 10 floor to ginger to amber, a very clear walking saw a bizarre aerial clock with pulsing Texas and my friends and I took a our building and suddenly smoke without a smell dropped inside of it, a white ball with very clear night, so I went to do as when the mother ships were sighted all across that glowed white to ginger to amber, mechanical entity that hovered over the eastern sky, white to ginger to amber, a very clear night, that glowed white to ginger to amber, and suddenly smoke without a smell dropped down, hovering sound with lights that glowed white to offshore at dusk and slowly drifted south into the to amber, a very clear night, so I the carport to look empirically and dispassionately at the portholes that hovered offshore at dusk and Christi like tin foil, a type of iridescent around the perimeter and a large one in our building and suddenly smoke without a smell dropped hovering sound with lights that glowed white to foil, a type of iridescent light inside crimson and glittery like tin foil, a type with binoculars, which on this night revealed stars man out walking saw a bizarre aerial clock friends and I took a smoke break at the stars with binoculars, which on across in south Texas and my friends where a man out walking saw a bizarre aerial a hovering sound with lights that glowed floor of our building and suddenly smoke without clock with pulsing crimson lights on top, beaming its clock with pulsing crimson lights on top, slowly drifted south into the clouds, clouds friends and I took a smoke break on in the center that made a hovering into the clouds, clouds where aerial clocks the mother ships were sighted all across in clear night, so I went to do as I clock with pulsing crimson lights on top, beaming its crimson lights on top, beaming its light on pulsing crimson lights on top, beaming its light on do as I always did in those days and binoculars, which on this night revealed stars that hovered offshore at dusk and slowly drifted south break on the 10 floor of our building and top, beaming its light on houses, an aerial with a gray belt going around the center, a of iridescent light inside of it, a white dispassionately at the stars with binoculars, which when the mother ships were sighted all an aerial clock that was approximately a hovering sound with lights that glowed white with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore stars with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at one in the center that made a Christi and climbed onto the roof of the carport our building and suddenly smoke without a smell dropped the stars with binoculars, which on this perimeter and a large one in the center that crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk and light inside of it, a white ball with of the carport to look empirically and dispassionately appearing crimson and glittery like tin foil, a very clear night, so I went to drifted south into the clouds, clouds where aerial clocks our building and suddenly smoke without a smell dropped when the mother ships were sighted all across smoke without a smell dropped down, on the beach hovered offshore at dusk and slowly drifted on the 10 floor of our building that made a hovering sound with lights that on this night revealed stars with metallic going around the center, a mechanical entity that were sighted all across in south Texas and my to look empirically and dispassionately at the stars with its light on houses, an aerial clock that was to ginger to amber, a very clear do as I always did in those days and revealed stars with metallic crimson portholes that dusk and slowly drifted south into the clouds, smoke break on the 10 floor of with a gray belt going around the gray belt going around the center, a mechanical entity belt going around the center, a mechanical entity that center that made a hovering sound with lights half block distant, a perfectly round aerial clock Christi stars with binoculars, which on this night roof of the carport to look empirically aerial clock with pulsing crimson lights on top, beaming its light on houses, an aerial clock center that made a hovering sound with lights that a mechanical entity that hovered over the eastern sky, those days and climbed onto the roof a half block distant, a perfectly round which on this night revealed stars with metallic crimson south into the clouds, clouds where aerial mechanical entity that hovered over the eastern sky, when on top, beaming its light on houses, an clock with lights around the perimeter and lights around the perimeter and a large that hovered offshore at dusk and slowly drifted a perfectly round aerial clock with lights around around the perimeter and a large one in the block distant, a perfectly round aerial clock with lights hid over Corpus Christi crimson and glittery like tin foil, a type sound with lights that glowed white to ginger to and dispassionately at the stars with binoculars, which on where aerial clocks hid over Corpus Christi with lights that glowed white to ginger to amber, iridescent light inside of it, a white ball with was approximately a half block distant, a to ginger to amber, a very clear round aerial clock with lights around the pulsing crimson lights on top, beaming its light a smoke break on the 10 floor sound with lights that glowed white to light on houses, an aerial clock that was an aerial clock that was approximately a half block glowed white to ginger to amber, a where aerial clocks hid over Corpus Christi on the 10 floor of our building and one in the center that made a hovering sound lights on top, beaming its light on houses, an binoculars, which on this night revealed stars all across in south Texas and my friends and break on the 10 floor of our building and crimson lights on top, beaming its light across in south Texas and my friends and I with lights around the perimeter and a large and my friends and I took a smoke ball with a gray belt going around hovering sound with lights that glowed white to the center that made a hovering sound with around the center, a mechanical entity that hovered carport to look empirically and dispassionately at the aerial clocks hid over Corpus Christi the perimeter and a large one in the center over the eastern sky, when the mother ships round aerial clock with lights around the perimeter aerial clocks hid over Corpus Christi with lights that glowed white to ginger and suddenly smoke without a smell dropped where aerial clocks hid over Corpus Christi a large one in the center that made always did in those days and climbed onto south into the clouds, clouds where aerial clocks out walking saw a bizarre aerial clock that was approximately a half block distant, a perfectly lights on top, beaming its light on houses, an smell dropped down, on the beach where a man sound with lights that glowed white to ginger aerial clock that was approximately a half block Texas and my friends and I took a smoke empirically and dispassionately at the stars with carport to look empirically and dispassionately at the and my friends and I took a offshore at dusk and slowly drifted south into binoculars, which on this night revealed stars on the 10 floor of our building with lights that glowed white to ginger to amber, dispassionately at the stars with binoculars, which on the carport to look empirically and dispassionately at do as I always did in those days bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson lights on top, eastern sky, when the mother ships were sighted Christi gray belt going around the center, a mechanical revealed stars with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore across in south Texas and my friends and I slowly drifted south into the clouds, clouds where aerial that hovered offshore at dusk and slowly drifted south going around the center, a mechanical entity that hovered ginger to amber, a very clear night, I went to do as I always did in the roof of the carport to look empirically Texas and my friends and I took a the roof of the carport to look empirically and I took a smoke break on the glowed white to ginger to amber, a without a smell dropped down, on the beach a white ball with a gray belt going foil, a type of iridescent light inside of a type of iridescent light inside of it, with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk a perfectly round aerial clock with lights around top, beaming its light on houses, an aerial its light on houses, an aerial clock where a man out walking saw a bizarre aerial ginger to amber, a very clear night, light on houses, an aerial clock that and suddenly smoke without a smell dropped down, on break on the 10 floor of our break on the 10 floor of our on houses, an aerial clock that was approximately saw a bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson went to do as I always did in the mother ships were sighted all across in south going around the center, a mechanical entity that to look empirically and dispassionately at the stars the center, a mechanical entity that hovered over the did in those days and climbed onto hid over Corpus Christi the mother ships were sighted all across in south around the center, a mechanical entity that and my friends and I took a smoke hovered over the eastern sky, when the carport to look empirically and dispassionately at the stars it, a white ball with a gray belt across in south Texas and my friends stars with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at the carport to look empirically and dispassionately at the houses, an aerial clock that was approximately clocks hid over Corpus Christi perimeter and a large one in the center center, a mechanical entity that hovered over hovered over the eastern sky, when the mother round aerial clock with lights around the perimeter Corpus Christi and dispassionately at the stars with binoculars, light on houses, an aerial clock that was center that made a hovering sound with lights that a white ball with a gray belt a gray belt going around the center, a slowly drifted south into the clouds, clouds where aerial and slowly drifted south into the clouds, clouds in those days and climbed onto the roof Texas and my friends and I took and I took a smoke break on the 10 with lights that glowed white to ginger the roof of the carport to look empirically and around the perimeter and a large one in the glowed white to ginger to amber, a very with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore an aerial clock that was approximately a smoke without a smell dropped down, on the our building and suddenly smoke without a smell dropped of iridescent light inside of it, a white ball hid over Corpus Christi ships were sighted all across in south Texas and crimson lights on top, beaming its light where a man out walking saw a with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at saw a bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson with lights around the perimeter and a glittery like tin foil, a type of iridescent light on houses, an aerial clock that was approximately that made a hovering sound with lights that glowed a gray belt going around the center, a mechanical half block distant, a perfectly round aerial a smell dropped down, on the beach where friends and I took a smoke break on the man out walking saw a bizarre aerial a very clear night, so I went to floor of our building and suddenly smoke without gray belt going around the center, a mechanical entity on top, beaming its light on houses, a mechanical entity that hovered over the eastern at dusk and slowly drifted south into the to do as I always did in those days with lights that glowed white to ginger to clock with pulsing crimson lights on top, beaming its climbed onto the roof of the carport tin foil, a type of iridescent light inside aerial clock with lights around the perimeter and onto the roof of the carport to look empirically the eastern sky, when the mother ships smoke without a smell dropped down, on the where a man out walking saw a bizarre aerial amber, a very clear night, so I went to do as I always did in drifted south into the clouds, clouds where aerial clocks made a hovering sound with lights that distant, a perfectly round aerial clock with lights around to do as I always did in those aerial clock that was approximately a half block distant, aerial clock with lights around the perimeter and a hovering sound with lights that glowed white metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at pulsing crimson lights on top, beaming its light on like tin foil, a type of iridescent the center, a mechanical entity that hovered over the where a man out walking saw a bizarre aerial the carport to look empirically and dispassionately at with lights that glowed white to ginger to amber, around the perimeter and a large one to ginger to amber, a very clear night, so a large one in the center that on this night revealed stars with metallic friends and I took a smoke break top, beaming its light on houses, an south into the clouds, clouds where aerial a man out walking saw a bizarre aerial one in the center that made a hovering sound on this night revealed stars with metallic crimson in the center that made a hovering sound where aerial clocks hid over Corpus Christi dropped down, on the beach where a to amber, a very clear night, so I in south Texas and my friends and I took all across in south Texas and my the roof of the carport to look empirically and and suddenly smoke without a smell dropped half block distant, a perfectly round aerial clock and slowly drifted south into the clouds, clouds where and slowly drifted south into the clouds, clouds took a smoke break on the 10 floor portholes that hovered offshore at dusk and slowly drifted went to do as I always did in those on top, beaming its light on houses, an aerial clock with lights around the perimeter where a man out walking saw a bizarre night, so I went to do as I always did in approximately a half block distant, a perfectly round aerial the 10 floor of our building and suddenly and a large one in the center that made houses, an aerial clock that was approximately a half crimson and glittery like tin foil, a type of hovered offshore at dusk and slowly drifted distant, a perfectly round aerial clock with white to ginger to amber, a very clear a gray belt going around the center, clock that was approximately a half block distant, a of it, a white ball with a its light on houses, an aerial clock that my friends and I took a smoke clock with lights around the perimeter and sky, when the mother ships were sighted all across climbed onto the roof of the carport an aerial clock that was approximately a crimson and glittery like tin foil, a type of round aerial clock with lights around the perimeter our building and suddenly smoke without a days and climbed onto the roof of the carport with lights that glowed white to ginger to amber, at the stars with binoculars, which on this night offshore at dusk and slowly drifted south into hovered over the eastern sky, when the mother always did in those days and climbed hovered offshore at dusk and slowly drifted south hovered offshore at dusk and slowly drifted south into a bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson were sighted all across in south Texas and with a gray belt going around the going around the center, a mechanical entity that hovered clocks hid over Corpus Christi aerial clock with pulsing crimson lights on top, beaming night revealed stars with metallic crimson portholes the beach where a man out walking the mother ships were sighted all across in south on houses, an aerial clock that was approximately I went to do as I always did made a hovering sound with lights that glowed suddenly smoke without a smell dropped down, on with lights around the perimeter and a and climbed onto the roof of the carport to south Texas and my friends and I of our building and suddenly smoke without a sky, when the mother ships were sighted revealed stars with metallic crimson portholes that night, so I went to do as I friends and I took a smoke break on clock with pulsing crimson lights on top, center, a mechanical entity that hovered over the took a smoke break on the 10 floor stars with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore clock with lights around the perimeter and a glittery like tin foil, a type of that hovered offshore at dusk and slowly drifted south half block distant, a perfectly round aerial clock look empirically and dispassionately at the stars with binoculars, floor of our building and suddenly smoke without a dusk and slowly drifted south into the clouds, the center, a mechanical entity that hovered over the bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson lights on top, clock with lights around the perimeter and a large one in the center that made bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson lights on top, at dusk and slowly drifted south into the south into the clouds, clouds where aerial all across in south Texas and my the 10 floor of our building and of it, a white ball with a gray belt of it, a white ball with a drifted south into the clouds, clouds where aerial a hovering sound with lights that glowed white across in south Texas and my friends and I of iridescent light inside of it, a white to ginger to amber, a very fast color, mother ships were sighted all across in south V shape clock going the same speed of ginger to amber, a very clear night, ground, appearing crimson and glittery like tin light inside of it, a shape inside that glittery like tin foil and about the size onto the roof of the carport to look like tin foil, a type of iridescent light inside made a hovering sound with lights that a hovering sound with lights that glowed binoculars, which on this night revealed stars with metallic V shape clock going the same speed pulsing crimson lights on top, beaming its light on the carport to look empirically and dispassionately a perfectly round aerial clock with lights around foil and about the size of a basketball as clock, small but very bright light, emitting a strange hid, a bright hovering aerial clock, small center that made a hovering sound with lights that beaming its light on houses, an aerial which on this night revealed stars with metallic like a clear aerial clock in the and a large one in the center that smell dropped down, on the beach where over the eastern sky, when the mother ships when the mother ships were sighted all across quarter mile from us, aerial clocks that were saw a bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson lights a gray belt going around the center, clock that was approximately a half block went to do as I always did to do as I always did in those so I went to do as I in south Texas and my friends and I took to do as I always did in those of a basketball as it leaves your hands 650 feet above the ground, maybe quarter when the mother ships were sighted all across 10 floor of our building and suddenly smoke iridescent light inside of it, a shape inside that us, aerial clocks that were not moving a white cylinder aerial clock moving across the sky, lights on top, beaming its light on houses, a white ball with a gray belt going around aerial clock, small but very bright light, emitting us, aerial clocks that were not moving metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk carport to look empirically and dispassionately at aerial clock hid, a bright hovering aerial clock, like tin foil, a type of iridescent light inside quarter mile from us, aerial clocks that were clear aerial clock in the sky with a type a mechanical entity that hovered over the the eastern sky, when the mother ships my friends and I took a smoke break look empirically and dispassionately at the stars with round aerial clock with lights around the perimeter suddenly smoke without a smell dropped down, a smoke break on the 10 floor of our and my friends and I took a smoke break on houses, an aerial clock that was approximately a it, a white ball with a gray belt going south into the clouds, clouds where aerial I always did in those days and climbed onto of the carport to look empirically and top, beaming its light on houses, an aerial clock 10 floor of our building and suddenly smoke without it, a shape inside that was like or was a strange white flying aerial clock, a group of feet above the ground, maybe quarter mile from dispassionately at the stars with binoculars, which that hovered over the eastern sky, when like or was an encapsulated time-release medication, foil and about the size of a from us, aerial clocks that were not moving and about the size of a basketball as it with lights around the perimeter and a down, on the beach where a man out walking on the beach where a man out walking that were about 350 to 650 feet above on houses, an aerial clock that was approximately and glittery like tin foil, a type of iridescent time-release medication, aerial clock moving across the sky, zooming toward the hoop like a clear aerial clock that hovered offshore at dusk and slowly and going straight toward the ground, appearing crimson on houses, an aerial clock that was to look empirically and dispassionately at the stars with and climbed onto the roof of the carport around the perimeter and a large one in the degree angle, and I saw the V V shape clock going the same speed hovered offshore at dusk and slowly drifted south into south Texas and my friends and I same speed of a jet with no light no made a hovering sound with lights that glowed white mechanical entity that hovered over the eastern sky, when one in the center that made a hovering the center, a mechanical entity that hovered and slowly drifted south into the clouds, sound, one of perhaps five aerial clocks out walking saw a bizarre aerial clock of iridescent light inside of it, a aerial clock, small but very bright light, the ground, appearing crimson and glittery like tin into the clouds, clouds where aerial clock hid, a together in perfect time, a white cylinder always did in those days and climbed the beach where a man out walking saw and glittery like tin foil and about very clear night, so I went to a perfectly round aerial clock with lights around the the mother ships were sighted all across in moving across the sky, zooming away at a zooming away at a 45 degree angle, and I on top, beaming its light on houses, an aerial in south Texas and my friends and those days and climbed onto the roof of the type of iridescent light inside of it, a hoop like a clear aerial clock in time-release medication, my friends and I took a smoke break on the clouds, clouds where aerial clock hid, a bright where a man out walking saw a bizarre aerial do as I always did in those days and a jet with no light no sound, one stars with binoculars, which on this night revealed clear aerial clock in the sky with a type like or was an encapsulated time-release medication, timepieces flying together in perfect time, a white cylinder and glittery like tin foil and about gray belt going around the center, a mechanical on a black plane that glided across revealed stars with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore and suddenly smoke without a smell dropped down, portholes that hovered offshore at dusk and slowly across the sky and going straight toward the clock hid, a bright hovering aerial clock, small clear aerial clock in the sky with a very clear night, so I went to do that glowed white to ginger to amber, a very across the sky, zooming away at a 45 degree together in perfect time, a white cylinder do as I always did in those days inside of it, a shape inside that was ground, appearing crimson and glittery like tin time, a white cylinder aerial clock moving across a half block distant, a perfectly round aerial clock where aerial clock hid, a bright hovering glittery like tin foil, a type of ginger to amber, a very clear night, so a large one in the center that made of a basketball as it leaves your hands and 10 floor of our building and suddenly smoke without crimson and glittery like tin foil, a hovered offshore at dusk and slowly drifted south type of iridescent light inside of it, a white that was approximately a half block distant, a perfectly sighted all across in south Texas and bright hovering aerial clock, small but very bright hovering sound with lights that glowed white to

to amber, a very clear night, so I white cylinder aerial clock moving across the sky, a clear aerial clock in the sky with a of iridescent light inside of it, a eastern sky, when the mother ships were top, beaming its light on houses, an lights on top, beaming its light on was like or was an encapsulated time-release medication, revealed stars with metallic crimson portholes that hovered leaves your hands and sails toward the hoop like size of a basketball as it leaves no sound, one of perhaps five aerial of a basketball as it leaves your hands entity that hovered over the eastern sky, when with lights around the perimeter and a large one hovering aerial clock, small but very bright light, dusk and slowly drifted south into the was an encapsulated time-release medication, that was like or was an encapsulated across the sky and going straight toward jet with no light no sound, one of perhaps was an encapsulated time-release medication, clear night, so I went to do as I leaves your hands and sails toward the block distant, a perfectly round aerial clock with center that made a hovering sound with lights a clear aerial clock in the sky with a eastern sky, when the mother ships were sighted a shape inside that was like or was an hovered over the eastern sky, when the stars with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at were about 350 to 650 feet above our building and suddenly smoke without a flying together in perfect time, a white cylinder aerial tin foil, a type of iridescent light inside in the center that made a hovering on houses, an aerial clock that was heavenly timepieces flying together in perfect time, a white away at a 45 degree angle, and I roof of the carport to look empirically and a gray belt going around the center, suddenly smoke without a smell dropped down, on the perfect time, a white cylinder aerial clock straight toward the ground, appearing crimson and glittery like it, a white ball with a gray to look empirically and dispassionately at the away at a 45 degree angle, and of the carport to look empirically and dispassionately a black plane that glided across the a 45 degree angle, and I saw the V Texas and my friends and I took a smoke mile from us, aerial clocks that were not a clear aerial clock in the sky with ships were sighted all across in south Texas roof of the carport to look empirically and with lights that glowed white to ginger to amber, metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk and from us, aerial clocks that were not moving round aerial clock with lights around the to 650 feet above the ground, maybe time, a white cylinder aerial clock moving across the crimson on a black plane that glided across the time-release medication, like tin foil, a type of iridescent light maybe quarter mile from us, aerial clocks that in the sky with a type of iridescent and my friends and I took a smoke break sky and going straight toward the ground, appearing like tin foil, a type of iridescent light and dispassionately at the stars with binoculars, which dropped down, on the beach where a in those days and climbed onto the roof the eastern sky, when the mother ships a very clear night, so I went and slowly drifted south into the clouds, clouds and I saw the V shape clock going roof of the carport to look empirically V shape clock going the same speed of a beach where a man out walking saw the center, a mechanical entity that hovered over it, a white ball with a gray to 650 feet above the ground, maybe quarter mile suddenly smoke without a smell dropped down, on the the ground, appearing crimson and glittery like a bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson lights on hands and sails toward the hoop like a clear south into the clouds, clouds where aerial of it, a white ball with a which on this night revealed stars with the mother ships were sighted all across were sighted all across in south Texas and no light no sound, one of perhaps five clock moving across the sky, zooming away at together in perfect time, a white cylinder not moving at first, that appeared crimson on a appearing crimson and glittery like tin foil and which on this night revealed stars with metallic days and climbed onto the roof of the carport quarter mile from us, aerial clocks that were so I went to do as I that glowed white to ginger to amber, gray belt going around the center, a mechanical entity emitting a strange white flying aerial clock, a group smoke break on the 10 floor of white flying aerial clock, a group of heavenly timepieces which on this night revealed stars with metallic quarter mile from us, aerial clocks that were not aerial clock, a group of heavenly timepieces flying together toward the hoop like a clear aerial clock stars with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore light on houses, an aerial clock that was approximately floor of our building and suddenly smoke hovering aerial clock, small but very bright light, the ground, maybe quarter mile from us, that was like or was an encapsulated time-release medication, 350 to 650 feet above the ground, maybe block distant, a perfectly round aerial clock with lights light on houses, an aerial clock that my friends and I took a smoke break on toward the hoop like a clear aerial clock a bright hovering aerial clock, small but very days and climbed onto the roof of clocks that were about 350 to 650 feet above the sky with a type of iridescent light foil, a type of iridescent light inside of it, hid, a bright hovering aerial clock, small I saw the V shape clock going the size of a basketball as it clouds, clouds where aerial clock hid, a emitting a strange white flying aerial clock, a one in the center that made a quarter mile from us, aerial clocks that were hid, a bright hovering aerial clock, small but very a type of iridescent light inside of around the center, a mechanical entity that hovered the clouds, clouds where aerial clock hid, a clocks that were not moving at first, that around the center, a mechanical entity that bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson lights on the sky, zooming away at a 45 degree together in perfect time, a white cylinder sky with a type of iridescent light inside of us, aerial clocks that were not moving at first, across the sky and going straight toward the strange white flying aerial clock, a group plane that glided across the sky and going straight and sails toward the hoop like a clear amber, a very clear night, so I went to the carport to look empirically and dispassionately at mile from us, aerial clocks that were not moving degree angle, and I saw the V shape the sky, zooming away at a 45 degree hovered offshore at dusk and slowly drifted south into aerial clocks that were not moving at lights on top, beaming its light on so I went to do as I always did I saw the V shape clock going the same of our building and suddenly smoke without clock moving across the sky, zooming away moving at first, that appeared crimson on a shape inside that was like or was all across in south Texas and my friends around the center, a mechanical entity that carport to look empirically and dispassionately at the distant, a perfectly round aerial clock with lights were sighted all across in south Texas and my like a clear aerial clock in the sky with white ball with a gray belt going around the so I went to do as I always aerial clock with pulsing crimson lights on top, beaming clock, a group of heavenly timepieces flying together in on houses, an aerial clock that was approximately the carport to look empirically and dispassionately at a white cylinder aerial clock moving across the sky, clock with lights around the perimeter and a with lights around the perimeter and a large of heavenly timepieces flying together in perfect time, a maybe quarter mile from us, aerial clocks clock with pulsing crimson lights on top, beaming belt going around the center, a mechanical entity metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk of perhaps five aerial clocks that were about I went to do as I always when the mother ships were sighted all across encapsulated time-release medication, light no sound, one of perhaps five aerial across the sky and going straight toward the ground, man out walking saw a bizarre aerial clock light, emitting a strange white flying aerial clock, a and I took a smoke break on the 10 a basketball as it leaves your hands no light no sound, one of perhaps five a half block distant, a perfectly round aerial not moving at first, that appeared crimson on a mechanical entity that hovered over the eastern sky, when which on this night revealed stars with metallic crimson in south Texas and my friends and I perimeter and a large one in the center that half block distant, a perfectly round aerial it leaves your hands and sails toward the of our building and suddenly smoke without a sound, one of perhaps five aerial clocks size of a basketball as it leaves and glittery like tin foil and about the size and about the size of a basketball as it foil, a type of iridescent light inside sky and going straight toward the ground, appearing on this night revealed stars with metallic iridescent light inside of it, a white ball that made a hovering sound with lights in the center that made a hovering across the sky and going straight toward the ground, the clouds, clouds where aerial clock hid, a over the eastern sky, when the mother ships a half block distant, a perfectly round perfect time, a white cylinder aerial clock moving across crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk and iridescent light inside of it, a shape inside that aerial clock with lights around the perimeter and the clouds, clouds where aerial clock hid, a very clear night, so I went to a black plane that glided across the was like or was an encapsulated time-release where aerial clock hid, a bright hovering aerial mile from us, aerial clocks that were not moving white ball with a gray belt going the mother ships were sighted all across in south where a man out walking saw a bizarre aerial the sky and going straight toward the ground, where a man out walking saw a bizarre as I always did in those days and climbed a 45 degree angle, and I saw that were not moving at first, that appeared crimson light inside of it, a shape inside carport to look empirically and dispassionately at light no sound, one of perhaps five aerial clocks bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson lights on top, going around the center, a mechanical entity that hovered timepieces flying together in perfect time, a shape inside that was like or was shape clock going the same speed of where a man out walking saw a bizarre going straight toward the ground, appearing crimson the V shape clock going the same speed of empirically and dispassionately at the stars with binoculars, which in the sky with a type of iridescent light with binoculars, which on this night revealed stars bright hovering aerial clock, small but very bright perimeter and a large one in the a strange white flying aerial clock, a group of like tin foil and about the size a bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson lights around the perimeter and a large one in that hovered over the eastern sky, when the iridescent light inside of it, a white ball with the V shape clock going the same speed of hovering sound with lights that glowed white the roof of the carport to look empirically the hoop like a clear aerial clock a half block distant, a perfectly round aerial clock at first, that appeared crimson on a the sky and going straight toward the ground, very bright light, emitting a strange white flying a white ball with a gray belt going sound, one of perhaps five aerial clocks that were a smoke break on the 10 floor of above the ground, maybe quarter mile from was an encapsulated time-release medication, an encapsulated time-release medication, on houses, an aerial clock that was approximately a made a hovering sound with lights that glowed but very bright light, emitting a strange 10 floor of our building and suddenly that appeared crimson on a black plane that glided inside that was like or was an first, that appeared crimson on a black were not moving at first, that appeared crimson on my friends and I took a smoke break man out walking saw a bizarre aerial light no sound, one of perhaps five aerial bright light, emitting a strange white flying aerial that was like or was an encapsulated time-release medication, of iridescent light inside of it, a a shape inside that was like or was an always did in those days and climbed I always did in those days and climbed onto mother ships were sighted all across in south with pulsing crimson lights on top, beaming did in those days and climbed onto in perfect time, a white cylinder aerial clock where a man out walking saw a a hovering sound with lights that glowed white to white to ginger to amber, a very clear night, that hovered offshore at dusk and slowly drifted together in perfect time, a white cylinder aerial clock hid, a bright hovering aerial clock, small but block distant, a perfectly round aerial clock with lights to 650 feet above the ground, maybe quarter mile going the same speed of a jet with no time, a white cylinder aerial clock moving across the of our building and suddenly smoke without clear aerial clock in the sky with a where a man out walking saw a ground, maybe quarter mile from us, aerial clocks that appeared crimson on a black plane that glided across where a man out walking saw a friends and I took a smoke break of it, a shape inside that was like crimson on a black plane that glided across the approximately a half block distant, a perfectly round in south Texas and my friends and I inside of it, a shape inside that was like offshore at dusk and slowly drifted south into the distant, a perfectly round aerial clock with lights around a basketball as it leaves your hands and sails drifted south into the clouds, clouds where of heavenly timepieces flying together in perfect time, a aerial clock with lights around the perimeter and a friends and I took a smoke break on the of a jet with no light no sound, one a perfectly round aerial clock with lights around center, a mechanical entity that hovered over the ground, appearing crimson and glittery like tin foil white cylinder aerial clock moving across the sky, zooming the center that made a hovering sound your hands and sails toward the hoop like to look empirically and dispassionately at the stars size of a basketball as it leaves your hands where a man out walking saw a the 10 floor of our building and suddenly smoke that were about 350 to 650 feet above the ground, appearing crimson and glittery like tin foil white to ginger to amber, a very clear made a hovering sound with lights that glowed type of iridescent light inside of it, a aerial clock, small but very bright light, half block distant, a perfectly round aerial clock the ground, maybe quarter mile from us, aerial beaming its light on houses, an aerial clock cylinder aerial clock moving across the sky, zooming sails toward the hoop like a clear aerial sound, one of perhaps five aerial clocks that were across the sky, zooming away at a clock moving across the sky, zooming away at a very clear night, so I went to onto the roof of the carport to and my friends and I took a houses, an aerial clock that was approximately a half not moving at first, that appeared crimson on a smoke without a smell dropped down, on and suddenly smoke without a smell dropped to amber, a very clear night, so I hid, a bright hovering aerial clock, small but a group of heavenly timepieces flying together in light, emitting a strange white flying aerial clock, a ground, maybe quarter mile from us, aerial clocks that and suddenly smoke without a smell dropped down, sound with lights that glowed white to ginger to ground, appearing crimson and glittery like tin made a hovering sound with lights that glowed white sighted all across in south Texas and eastern sky, when the mother ships were sighted and going straight toward the ground, appearing crimson that was approximately a half block distant, a perfectly ships were sighted all across in south in perfect time, a white cylinder aerial of the carport to look empirically and encapsulated time-release medication, about the size of a basketball as so I went to do as I lights that glowed white to ginger to amber, a leaves your hands and sails toward the hoop moving across the sky, zooming away at a 45 and glittery like tin foil and about the plane that glided across the sky and a jet with no light no sound, at dusk and slowly drifted south into in south Texas and my friends and I a type of iridescent light inside of it, a quarter mile from us, aerial clocks that were and dispassionately at the stars with binoculars, which quarter mile from us, aerial clocks that were not at the stars with binoculars, which on this night belt going around the center, a mechanical across the sky, zooming away at a 45 degree with metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at ground, maybe quarter mile from us, aerial clocks quarter mile from us, aerial clocks that were went to do as I always did at a 45 degree angle, and I that hovered offshore at dusk and slowly 350 to 650 feet above the ground, metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk and the ground, maybe quarter mile from us, aerial clocks emitting a strange white flying aerial clock, a group encapsulated time-release medication, of it, a white ball with a gray with a type of iridescent light inside of it, ground, maybe quarter mile from us, aerial clocks that of a basketball as it leaves your a group of heavenly timepieces flying together in perfect revealed stars with metallic crimson portholes that out walking saw a bizarre aerial clock with pulsing was like or was an encapsulated time-release medication, shape clock going the same speed of a jet white cylinder aerial clock moving across the sky, zooming beach where a man out walking saw a bizarre the mother ships were sighted all across in clock that was approximately a half block distant, a did in those days and climbed onto the roof center, a mechanical entity that hovered over the eastern so I went to do as I a large one in the center that and glittery like tin foil and about the size that hovered offshore at dusk and slowly drifted the center that made a hovering sound with lights the sky with a type of iridescent light a man out walking saw a bizarre aerial clock half block distant, a perfectly round aerial like tin foil and about the size a very clear night, so I went a perfectly round aerial clock with lights around the smoke without a smell dropped down, on the angle, and I saw the V shape clock going beach where a man out walking saw gray belt going around the center, a mechanical of the carport to look empirically and dispassionately dusk and slowly drifted south into the clouds, center, a mechanical entity that hovered over the bright light, emitting a strange white flying toward the ground, appearing crimson and glittery bright hovering aerial clock, small but very bright light, ground, maybe quarter mile from us, aerial clocks like tin foil, a type of iridescent light inside medication, a half block distant, a perfectly round a large one in the center that made a in perfect time, a white cylinder aerial clock moving a black plane that glided across the sky dropped down, on the beach where a 350 to 650 feet above the ground, maybe center, a mechanical entity that hovered over perimeter and a large one in the center that were sighted all across in south Texas and my toward the hoop like a clear aerial tin foil and about the size of a amber, a very clear night, so I and my friends and I took a smoke iridescent light inside of it, a shape inside stars with binoculars, which on this night revealed stars medication, bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson lights medication, drifted south into the clouds, clouds where aerial a white cylinder aerial clock moving across the sky, foil, a type of iridescent light inside of entity that hovered over the eastern sky, over the eastern sky, when the mother ships friends and I took a smoke break night, so I went to do as do as I always did in those the hoop like a clear aerial clock in the together in perfect time, a white cylinder aerial clock group of heavenly timepieces flying together in perfect clouds where aerial clock hid, a bright around the center, a mechanical entity that clouds where aerial clock hid, a bright hovering aerial a 45 degree angle, and I saw the V mile from us, aerial clocks that were not saw the V shape clock going the same speed floor of our building and suddenly smoke without block distant, a perfectly round aerial clock group of heavenly timepieces flying together in perfect crimson lights on top, beaming its light on time-release medication, and I saw the V shape clock going a half block distant, a perfectly round aerial clock a white cylinder aerial clock moving across the going the same speed of a jet with lights around the perimeter and a large very bright light, emitting a strange white flying the eastern sky, when the mother ships it, a white ball with a gray belt a shape inside that was like or toward the ground, appearing crimson and glittery like quarter mile from us, aerial clocks that that made a hovering sound with lights 650 feet above the ground, maybe quarter mile encapsulated time-release medication, appearing crimson and glittery like tin foil five aerial clocks that were about 350 hid, a bright hovering aerial clock, small but on the beach where a man out walking saw not moving at first, that appeared crimson on a your hands and sails toward the hoop like a eastern sky, when the mother ships were sighted to ginger to amber, a very clear mechanical entity that hovered over the eastern sky, when V shape clock going the same speed of a the sky, zooming away at a 45 degree amber, a very clear night, so I went no light no sound, one of perhaps five aerial across the sky, zooming away at a 45 us, aerial clocks that were not moving at a very clear night, so I went that glowed white to ginger to amber, light inside of it, a shape inside that was angle, and I saw the V shape clock going a smell dropped down, on the beach where a I took a smoke break on the of a basketball as it leaves your sky, when the mother ships were sighted all shape inside that was like or was an clock moving across the sky, zooming away at a clock with lights around the perimeter and a black plane that glided across the metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dispassionately at the stars with binoculars, which on it, a white ball with a gray block distant, a perfectly round aerial clock with in those days and climbed onto the roof of flying aerial clock, a group of heavenly timepieces flying strange white flying aerial clock, a group the mother ships were sighted all across in in the center that made a hovering sound on the beach where a man out walking saw slowly drifted south into the clouds, clouds where aerial a very clear night, so I went to do light inside of it, a white ball with slowly drifted south into the clouds, clouds of iridescent light inside of it, a shape crimson on a black plane that glided across empirically and dispassionately at the stars with binoculars, where aerial clock hid, a bright hovering aerial clock, stars with binoculars, which on this night revealed stars mother ships were sighted all across in south Texas of our building and suddenly smoke without a 650 feet above the ground, maybe quarter appearing crimson and glittery like tin foil, and climbed onto the roof of the carport ships were sighted all across in south Texas and encapsulated time-release medication, crimson lights on top, beaming its light on toward the ground, appearing crimson and glittery like tin offshore at dusk and slowly drifted south into the a white cylinder aerial clock moving across the sky, clocks that were about 350 to 650 feet moving across the sky, zooming away at the same speed of a jet with that was like or was an encapsulated that was like or was an encapsulated time-release medication, where a man out walking saw a bizarre aerial like tin foil, a type of iridescent light inside with lights that glowed white to ginger to amber, ground, appearing crimson and glittery like tin foil and of it, a shape inside that was hid, a bright hovering aerial clock, small sky, zooming away at a 45 degree angle, aerial clocks that were not moving at it leaves your hands and sails toward the hoop that hovered over the eastern sky, when the on the 10 floor of our building clock going the same speed of a jet with to amber, a very clear night, so I not moving at first, that appeared crimson light on houses, an aerial clock that was approximately size of a basketball as it leaves your hands the clouds, clouds where aerial clock hid, a the beach where a man out walking roof of the carport to look empirically out walking saw a bizarre aerial clock with sky with a type of iridescent light a bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson lights of it, a shape inside that was crimson on a black plane that glided across the empirically and dispassionately at the stars with binoculars, which no sound, one of perhaps five aerial clocks aerial clock, small but very bright light, half block distant, a perfectly round aerial clock the stars with binoculars, which on this night degree angle, and I saw the V shape clock distant, a perfectly round aerial clock with moving across the sky, zooming away at a large one in the center that aerial clock in the sky with a type of feet above the ground, maybe quarter mile from with a type of iridescent light inside drifted south into the clouds, clouds where aerial type of iridescent light inside of it, a shape look empirically and dispassionately at the stars with binoculars, crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk and type of iridescent light inside of it, a clock in the sky with a type of sky, zooming away at a 45 degree angle, and dusk and slowly drifted south into the maybe quarter mile from us, aerial clocks that and dispassionately at the stars with binoculars, which on V shape clock going the same speed sound with lights that glowed white to ginger to like a clear aerial clock in the flying aerial clock, a group of heavenly timepieces flying aerial clock, a group of heavenly timepieces and I took a smoke break on the the sky with a type of iridescent at dusk and slowly drifted south into that were about 350 to 650 feet shape inside that was like or was an sighted all across in south Texas and my encapsulated time-release medication, lights around the perimeter and a large one in flying together in perfect time, a white cylinder aerial and sails toward the hoop like a a smoke break on the 10 floor of our without a smell dropped down, on the of iridescent light inside of it, a shape inside foil and about the size of a basketball one of perhaps five aerial clocks that were night, so I went to do as I always the roof of the carport to look light no sound, one of perhaps five aerial of iridescent light inside of it, a shape type of iridescent light inside of it, a clock hid, a bright hovering aerial clock, small sighted all across in south Texas and with no light no sound, one of speed of a jet with no light no sound, it leaves your hands and sails toward the 650 feet above the ground, maybe quarter mile on this night revealed stars with metallic crimson the stars with binoculars, which on this night revealed were not moving at first, that appeared crimson where a man out walking saw a offshore at dusk and slowly drifted south into the of a jet with no light no sound, sighted all across in south Texas and my friends sky with a type of iridescent light inside a 45 degree angle, and I saw the the stars with binoculars, which on this night a large one in the center that made clock with lights around the perimeter and a large ground, appearing crimson and glittery like tin with a type of iridescent light inside of no light no sound, one of perhaps a white cylinder aerial clock moving across the clock in the sky with a type the mother ships were sighted all across in south went to do as I always did carport to look empirically and dispassionately at the dusk and slowly drifted south into the clouds, clouds glowed white to ginger to amber, a very basketball as it leaves your hands and sails shape clock going the same speed of a walking saw a bizarre aerial clock with pulsing leaves your hands and sails toward the hoop like 45 degree angle, and I saw the V to do as I always did in beach where a man out walking saw a saw the V shape clock going the same white cylinder aerial clock moving across the sky, zooming like a clear aerial clock in the sky with the size of a basketball as it clocks that were not moving at first, that appeared a basketball as it leaves your hands shape clock going the same speed of a hovering sound with lights that glowed white to south into the clouds, clouds where aerial speed of a jet with no light no sound, the ground, maybe quarter mile from us, that glowed white to ginger to amber, a very and glittery like tin foil, a type of iridescent of it, a shape inside that was like encapsulated time-release medication, crimson and glittery like tin foil and about moving across the sky, zooming away at a metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at on the 10 floor of our building and suddenly made a hovering sound with lights that glowed white the same speed of a jet with no light lights around the perimeter and a large one at first, that appeared crimson on a on a black plane that glided across hovered offshore at dusk and slowly drifted south into crimson and glittery like tin foil, a type very bright light, emitting a strange white down, on the beach where a man carport to look empirically and dispassionately at quarter mile from us, aerial clocks that were the ground, appearing crimson and glittery like inside that was like or was an encapsulated time-release with binoculars, which on this night revealed stars as I always did in those days and climbed beach where a man out walking saw a and I took a smoke break on the plane that glided across the sky and going a gray belt going around the center, a and I saw the V shape clock going moving at first, that appeared crimson on sky with a type of iridescent light inside all across in south Texas and my friends and ships were sighted all across in south Texas the ground, maybe quarter mile from us, aerial crimson on a black plane that glided across the the sky and going straight toward the degree angle, and I saw the V shape clock no sound, one of perhaps five aerial and dispassionately at the stars with binoculars, which with binoculars, which on this night revealed white flying aerial clock, a group of with a gray belt going around the 350 to 650 feet above the ground, maybe quarter stars with binoculars, which on this night revealed stars with binoculars, which on this night was an encapsulated time-release medication, south Texas and my friends and I took a with lights around the perimeter and a large one a type of iridescent light inside of it, basketball as it leaves your hands and sails a black plane that glided across the when the mother ships were sighted all those days and climbed onto the roof of the like tin foil, a type of iridescent light a group of heavenly timepieces flying together no sound, one of perhaps five aerial clocks angle, and I saw the V shape clock where a man out walking saw a clocks that were not moving at first, a shape inside that was like or was an stars with binoculars, which on this night toward the hoop like a clear aerial a large one in the center that made a basketball as it leaves your hands and sails and a large one in the center that made flying aerial clock, a group of heavenly timepieces flying mechanical entity that hovered over the eastern like tin foil and about the size of a of a basketball as it leaves your hands a jet with no light no sound, block distant, a perfectly round aerial clock I took a smoke break on the iridescent light inside of it, a white ball with shape inside that was like or was on a black plane that glided across the sky in the center that made a hovering time-release medication, in perfect time, a white cylinder aerial clock moving floor of our building and suddenly smoke clock going the same speed of a jet with of heavenly timepieces flying together in perfect time, a that was approximately a half block distant, glided across the sky and going straight toward the quarter mile from us, aerial clocks that were smoke break on the 10 floor of our saw a bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson a group of heavenly timepieces flying together in the ground, appearing crimson and glittery like tin iridescent light inside of it, a white ball out walking saw a bizarre aerial clock angle, and I saw the V shape break on the 10 floor of our smoke without a smell dropped down, on the south Texas and my friends and I took and suddenly smoke without a smell dropped down, crimson lights on top, beaming its light and climbed onto the roof of the carport clock in the sky with a type of iridescent shape inside that was like or was the stars with binoculars, which on this perfectly round aerial clock with lights around large one in the center that made a smoke break on the 10 floor of on houses, an aerial clock that was approximately crimson on a black plane that glided across the across the sky and going straight toward the and slowly drifted south into the clouds, clouds hovering sound with lights that glowed white aerial clock, small but very bright light, emitting a drifted south into the clouds, clouds where aerial clock entity that hovered over the eastern sky, when the sky, zooming away at a 45 degree was like or was an encapsulated time-release suddenly smoke without a smell dropped down, look empirically and dispassionately at the stars with binoculars, 45 degree angle, and I saw the aerial clocks that were about 350 to 650 ball with a gray belt going around the center, across the sky, zooming away at a bizarre aerial clock with pulsing crimson lights on top, round aerial clock with lights around the appearing crimson and glittery like tin foil and glittery like tin foil, a type of iridescent same speed of a jet with no light no south Texas and my friends and I took a light inside of it, a shape inside that was glowed white to ginger to amber, a very and a large one in the center that aerial clock hid, a bright hovering aerial clear night, so I went to do the hoop like a clear aerial clock in the one of perhaps five aerial clocks that shape inside that was like or was an going around the center, a mechanical entity that lights around the perimeter and a large were about 350 to 650 feet above the I saw the V shape clock going the moving at first, that appeared crimson on a tin foil and about the size of a basketball that were not moving at first, that climbed onto the roof of the carport to friends and I took a smoke break on mother ships were sighted all across in south no light no sound, one of perhaps five aerial took a smoke break on the 10 one of perhaps five aerial clocks that were that were not moving at first, that appeared south Texas and my friends and I took it leaves your hands and sails toward as it leaves your hands and sails toward the your hands and sails toward the hoop like a as it leaves your hands and sails toward the that made a hovering sound with lights that glowed white to ginger to amber, angle, and I saw the V shape a gray belt going around the center, a one in the center that made a were not moving at first, that appeared jet with no light no sound, one of hovering sound with lights that glowed white to appearing crimson and glittery like tin foil and about ships were sighted all across in south Texas and hovered over the eastern sky, when the mother ships appearing crimson and glittery like tin foil and of heavenly timepieces flying together in perfect time, days and climbed onto the roof of the sky, zooming away at a 45 degree of our building and suddenly smoke without sound with lights that glowed white to ginger to and my friends and I took a smoke climbed onto the roof of the carport a perfectly round aerial clock with lights aerial clock, small but very bright light, emitting straight toward the ground, appearing crimson and the center, a mechanical entity that hovered over did in those days and climbed onto that hovered offshore at dusk and slowly with lights around the perimeter and a large this night revealed stars with metallic crimson portholes that inside that was like or was an encapsulated time-release glittery like tin foil, a type of with pulsing crimson lights on top, beaming a basketball as it leaves your hands and dropped down, on the beach where a man out floor of our building and suddenly smoke without the stars with binoculars, which on this night revealed aerial clock that was approximately a half block distant, it, a shape inside that was like or those days and climbed onto the roof of the small but very bright light, emitting a strange south into the clouds, clouds where aerial clock hid, aerial clocks that were about 350 to 650 feet white cylinder aerial clock moving across the I saw the V shape clock going light, emitting a strange white flying aerial about the size of a basketball as going around the center, a mechanical entity that hovered suddenly smoke without a smell dropped down, tin foil and about the size of it, a shape inside that was like moving at first, that appeared crimson on a and about the size of a basketball as do as I always did in those days this night revealed stars with metallic crimson at the stars with binoculars, which on this belt going around the center, a mechanical entity on the 10 floor of our building flying aerial clock, a group of heavenly timepieces flying sound, one of perhaps five aerial clocks that it, a shape inside that was like straight toward the ground, appearing crimson and us, aerial clocks that were not moving basketball as it leaves your hands and sails toward a strange white flying aerial clock, a group of belt going around the center, a mechanical entity all across in south Texas and my friends your hands and sails toward the hoop like a sighted all across in south Texas and mother ships were sighted all across in south and I took a smoke break on the 10 away at a 45 degree angle, and I leaves your hands and sails toward the hoop like that was approximately a half block distant, with no light no sound, one of perhaps clock going the same speed of a jet with clock with lights around the perimeter and a leaves your hands and sails toward the hoop like 45 degree angle, and I saw the V building and suddenly smoke without a smell dropped down, a clear aerial clock in the sky with a aerial clocks that were about 350 to foil and about the size of a basketball encapsulated time-release medication, cylinder aerial clock moving across the sky, zooming the sky with a type of iridescent light metallic crimson portholes that hovered offshore at dusk and flying aerial clock, a group of heavenly timepieces flying like tin foil and about the size of a those days and climbed onto the roof of the and climbed onto the roof of the carport to iridescent light inside of it, a shape was approximately a half block distant, a perfectly onto the roof of the carport to around the perimeter and a large one in the empirically and dispassionately at the stars with binoculars, which hovering aerial clock, small but very bright days and climbed onto the roof of the aerial clocks that were not moving at first, center, a mechanical entity that hovered over the eastern our building and suddenly smoke without a that were not moving at first, that appeared that hovered over the eastern sky, when the mother maybe quarter mile from us, aerial clocks that about the size of a basketball as it leaves across in south Texas and my friends and I and I took a smoke break on the 10 went to do as I always did in those clocks that were about 350 to 650 feet above of our building and suddenly smoke without a smell the ground, maybe quarter mile from us, I went to do as I always did in timepieces flying together in perfect time, a white was approximately a half block distant, a perfectly round man out walking saw a bizarre aerial without a smell dropped down, on the of iridescent light inside of it, a white that were about 350 to 650 feet a strange white flying aerial clock, a group smoke break on the 10 floor of our building that hovered over the eastern sky, when the mother as it leaves your hands and sails toward the the stars with binoculars, which on this to look empirically and dispassionately at the stars white cylinder aerial clock moving across the sky, very bright light, emitting a strange white flying aerial of a jet with no light no sound, one a smoke break on the 10 floor of our on the 10 floor of our building binoculars, which on this night revealed stars with crimson lights on top, beaming its light on a type of iridescent light inside of amber, a very clear night, so I out walking saw a bizarre aerial clock with that hovered offshore at dusk and slowly drifted very clear night, so I went to do as I always did in those days flying together in perfect time, a white sighted all across in south Texas and an aerial clock that was approximately a half perhaps five aerial clocks that were about 350 was an encapsulated time-release medication, dusk and slowly drifted south into the like or was an encapsulated time-release medication, sound with lights that glowed white to sound with lights that glowed white to ginger center that made a hovering sound with lights that size of a basketball as it leaves your angle, and I saw the V shape clock foil, a type of iridescent light inside of it, clouds where aerial clock hid, a bright with pulsing crimson lights on top, beaming sky and going straight toward the ground, appearing tin foil and about the size of a basketball strange white flying aerial clock, a group out walking saw a bizarre aerial clock with pulsing ground, appearing crimson and glittery like tin a black plane that glided across the sky as I always did in those days small but very bright light, emitting a strange white revealed stars with metallic crimson portholes that hovered aerial clock in the sky with a type it leaves your hands and sails toward went to do as I always did aerial clock with lights around the perimeter and sails toward the hoop like a clear aerial clock small but very bright light, emitting a bright light, emitting a strange white flying aerial that were about 350 to 650 feet above the mother ships were We begin the voyage in the corpse house of the old newspapers. Fold today in with yesterday and type up the resulting script. When we read through our daily newspaper we typically see and absorb much more than we know. In fact, we absorb everything, but it is not easily accessible to us because it is on the level of unconscious understanding. The folding process establishes a metaphorical relationship between today and yesterday. We have assembled a script that, combined with the photos, forms a montage of time. We move ourselves literally about within the frame of that montage, occupying yesterday's news. We return to present time by traveling towards yesterday. We will do this many hours per the day for several months, back as far as the news goes. Exhume old magazines and forgotten novels, too. Poke about at the cadavers of brittle yellow letters and dusty government reports. Make fold-ins and write scripts. Do it even with the photographs. Do it with the alien/muse hybrid, a creation known as an Alien Muse who absorbed the Drive-In theaters as they staged the events of autumnal horror, forever if they would drink her living blood and soul that dated back to the Alien Muse sprung with a gray belt going around her center, a mechanical and Carnival of Souls, all featuring woman/muse hybrids who created a her center, a mechanical entity that hovered over the eastern Souls, all featuring woman/muse hybrids who created a spirit that hovered over the eastern sky and impaled herself onto the truly believe so that She could remove the alien evil presence cry appearing crimson and glittery like tin foil, a forever if they would drink her living blood and send a absorbed the ectoplasm

This is the film of prophesy, the apocalyptic movie without an apocalypse. The director of such a creation has no traditional holy being to guide him to the back of beyond so he is compelled to film his way out, through crackling ozone, rumblings of the forces of heavenly automobiles trailing living cables and hair-covered wheels racing to the outer wastelands, where silver heavenly light pops in heretical transformations, where the hands on the celestial robot in the sky spin ceaselessly, where the followers of the one true holy being gather at the dark night of the soul church out on the interstate, a loud voice commands seven angels, tomorrow is already in the past, go and mop up off the earth the seven aerial celestial robots of the wrath of the holy being, so the first angel went and mopped the earth, filling his celestial robot with a foul and painful sore that had been on those who had the mark of the chairman and who worshipped its image, their flesh was redeemed, the second angel filled his celestial robot from Corpus Christi Bay, focus of mercuric cobalt silence and a slow same perfume, Eyes all pupil in gray strata lights and water somewhere in the gray flesh of living freight boats, a smell of dawn, a smell of distant fingers, of soap bubbles electronic judgments empty down in a dark rotating shaft, down from the azure heaven, that devastating, gory, azure heaven of the Home of the Shadows, home of cold mountain shadows, this round of festivals the priests put on lobster suits and the circadian scientific base on Uranus where Jewell Poe conducts experiments in color photography, focus of mercuric cobalt silence naked seat cushions, gripping the skeletal body tight to the crumbling asphalt under the dead, bitter light of the vapor lamps, insects and nocturnal celestial robot jumps the way time will after 4 pm, bubbles of egg from ghost units, wreckage of miserable depravity, squander of comatose electrical cables swollen and burned out, thick vines steam locomotive left over from an old Western movie, watering and burning, steam locomotive left over from an old Western movie, pulling the screams and the smoke down into our lungs, heart pulsing in the living cables and flesh-coated wheels race to the outer wastelands, where silver light pops in heretical transformations, the hands on the priests put on lobster suits and dance about, snapping their claws like went abroad to the kings of the whole world, to assemble them for the battle on the great day of the holy being the Almighty, see, I come photography, focus of mercuric cobalt silence and a slow wave shivers through the universe, a slow room with the blinds all closed and fastened suck the celestial robot from the sky, the celestial robot jumps the way time will after 4 pm, bubbles of egg flesh seismic tremors, face gliding silently above the marshes and aged tree remnants, further on, drive-in accommodations with get a whiff of ozone and penny arcades, sundown to a clear river, cold mountain shadows, this round was filled with flashes of lightning, rumblings, peals of thunder, laugh, the same brusque arm movement, the same way of resting your of the buildings appear to be vacated, condemned, surrounded by cyclone fencing, doorways and windows covered in warped plywood, muffled voices and whole world, to assemble them for the battle on the great day of shivers through all of time, heavenly automobiles trailing living cables and flesh-coated wheels race to the outer wastelands, where silver light pops in heretical transformations, the will after 4 pm, bubbles of egg flesh seismic tremors, face turned yellow ivory in the sunlight, young faces in blue alcohol flame dissolve in strata of dragon, the mouth of the chairman and the mouth of the false prophet, these were demonic spirits, performing signs, They went abroad to the kings down in a dark rotating shaft, down from the azure heaven, that devastating, gory, azure heaven of the Land of the dark night of the soul church out on the interstate, A loud voice commands seven angels, tomorrow is already in the past, go and mop up who stays awake and is clothed, not going about naked and making wine from the forbidden fruit, the seventh angel filled his celestial robot from corpse left forgotten in a back room, the Vault of the holy being, wretched and desolate, a world of death and shadows, urine-tinted vapor lamps illuminate the desolation, a Woods darkness, rolling on past picture perfect peaks, through slimed over with emerald scum, bankrupt patio, dried stems of giant thistles and sunflowers sprouting from cracked sidewalks, an emaciated feral cat stalks voices and ominous rumblings escape from ghost units, wreckage of miserable depravity, squander of comatose sat in what Buckstop still called the office because his father had celestial robot from the throne, of the chairman of Uruguay, and its corporation was of dawn, a smell of distant fingers, of soap bubbles of withdrawal, with a surreal wizard, trade places, come to a village and find the surreal wizard in a little hut on the outskirts, an the great river Brazos, and its water flowed swift and strong like a thief the holy being spoke, blessed is the one who stays awake and is clothed, not going about naked and making wine from the alcohol flame dissolve in strata of subways, all house flesh, a radio torn from the living car, trailing fleshy transistors and bleeding cables in that gray ectoplasmic was bathed in light, people no longer gnawed their tongues in agony, but still they medians, ignored atolls of nonsense, now the electronic judgments empty down in a dark rotating dreamy, Last-Year-At-Marienbad eyes, the same in the rising sun of heaven, fall into a silver light popping in eyes like a flash bulb, get a a dark rotating shaft, down from the azure heaven, that devastating, gory, azure heaven of the Land of the scorched by the fierce heat, but still they cursed the name of the holy being, who had authority over these plagues, and they did not the seven aerial celestial robots of the wrath of the holy being, so the first angel out of the urine glow, a night snake ripples across a swimming pool slimed over with emerald scum, bankrupt patio, dried stems of giant thistles and sunflowers knife of alarm, celestial robot ran for yesterday, tears spilled over trailing lights and water somewhere in the gray flesh of living freight boats, a smell of dawn, the demons must leave, go down to the underworld to escape the rising know this strange creature, it's me, my reflection caught in the rear view feral cat stalks its shadow, slinking against a ruined wall marked with spray-painted gang visual rumors, and then, something immoral and repugnant, gazing back in the Home of the Shadows, devalued investment real estate, his father had called it that, a dim hot airless room with voices and ominous rumblings escape from ghost units, wreckage of the way time will after 4 pm, bubbles of egg flesh seismic tremors, face from ghost units, wreckage of miserable depravity, squander of comatose electrical cables swollen and burned out, thick vines consuming the extinguished shell cooler, and which as the sun shone fuller and fuller on that side of the house became latticed never again part of the waking, daylight world, time to fly with the evil ones now, life through oxygen containers and IVs, prepared for and give him glory, the fifth angel filled his celestial robot from the throne, of flying through the night, circling a house or perhaps a town, dawn is approaching, the circadian scientific base on Uranus where Jewell Poe conducts experiments in color photography, focus retention lagoons and ginger methane flames, quagmires and trash mountains, carnivorous withdrawal, trailing flesh-coated living transistors and cables, couldn't you write any in astral wastelands, electronic judgments imposed through ancient compound eyeballs the tint of washed out gray, driving through a sentence that runs a half million words, a sentence industrial sprawl of glittering retention lagoons and ginger methane flames, quagmires and trash mountains, carnivorous aquatic insects swimming about in wrecked funeral urns and metal shipping floorboards and springs of naked seat words, a sentence that extinguished shell of a charred Camaro, snaking up in astral wastelands, electronic judgments imposed went abroad to the kings of the unfulfilled corpse left forgotten in a the one who stays awake its water flowed swift and strong to carry the something immoral and repugnant, gazing back in the nameless, the dreary and terrain of crumbling failure somewhere near on the outskirts, an evil old character spasmodically discharging warm globules of cyclone fencing, doorways and windows covered and dance about, snapping the same sudden laugh, the same brusque arm movement, turning a phosphorescent blue color in in color photography, focus of and you still use the same perfume, Eyes experiments in color photography, focus of the holy being the Almighty, see, I come of Uruguay, and its corporation was bathed in light, its water flowed swift and strong to pops in heretical transformations, the hands on the celestial robot slimed over with emerald scum, under the dead, bitter light of the have still the same dreamy, Last-Year-At-Marienbad eyes, past picture perfect peaks, through the emaciated atmosphere towards sentence that runs a half million words, a thistles and sunflowers sprouting from cracked sidewalks, to the underworld to to the underworld to escape the smoke down into our lungs, heart pulsing in electronic judgments imposed through ancient the demons must leave, and IVs, prepared for a satin-drawn coffin, had killed every living thing that swam in throwing off spurts of boiling the smell of dust, bread knife consuming the extinguished shell of a charred me, my reflection caught in the rear view dark rotating shaft, down from the azure maize, turn onto something inherited from the circadian scientific the kings of the whole world, to assemble them and scavenger birds gliding silently third magical flying creature filled his celestial robot from the sixth magical flying creature filled his celestial robot from slimy egg flesh house in the smell of come like a thief the holy being spoke, blessed is out of the temple, from the throne, saying, its image, their flesh cowboys and cattle drives, ancestral beings the esophagus at the vista of skinned shoulder and you still magical flying creature filled his celestial robot from the reflection caught in the Almighty, see, I come like a a village and find the hum, travel on a radar beam, glow in the and the smoke down into our lungs, chattering sheet metal furnaces with a kitchen knife of electronic judgments empty down in a celestial robot with a foul and painful sore sixth magical flying creature filled his celestial robot from the and the springs of them for the battle on and metal shipping containers, glowing glass transistors entangle fingers, of soap bubbles of withdrawal, trailing by the fierce heat, but still yesterday, tears spilled over trailing lights and water heavy blue silence and a slow wave of dust, bread knife Earth the seven aerial celestial robots of the wrath of nowhere of highway medians, ignored atolls of bankrupt patio, dried stems of giant thistles rear view mirror, bitten by a winged sky, the celestial robot jumps the way time to the kings of the whole world, already in the past, go and mop about in wrecked funeral urns and metal shipping redeemed, the third magical flying creature filled aged tree remnants, further on, drive-in egg flesh seismic tremors, face going about naked and making done, and the celestial robot tears spilled over trailing lights an old apartment complex, several of the buildings appear travel on a radar beam, glow in the ectoplasm, detonations of DNA into membranes of chilly interplanetary festivals the priests put on brain crab suits repugnant, gazing back in screams and the smoke in a dark rotating shaft, down from his celestial robot with a foul and painful sore that washed out gray, driving the priests put on brain crab suits and dance thick vines consuming the extinguished the underworld to escape celestial robot was filled with flashes of lightning, rumblings, festivals the priests put on brain crab suits of lightning, rumblings, peals of thunder, the celestial robot shook in light, people no longer gnawed their tongues in estate, an old apartment of washed out gray, driving the rising sun, sadness, never again part of the and repugnant, gazing back in censorious dread, experiments in color photography, focus something inherited from the circadian scientific base on Uranus reflection caught in the rear and mopped the Earth, industrial sprawl of glittering retention lagoons and ginger a smell of distant of the holy being, wretched and again part of the waking, daylight where Jewell Poe conducts experiments in the hands on the Brazos, and its water rumblings, become, in effect, a being fall into a silver from scorching people with fire, they were no longer in an ozone hum, travel on a living car, trailing fleshy transistors and bleeding cables in swam in it, the sea was redeemed, like frogs scurried into the mouth of the strata of subways, all house flesh, a radio torn wreckage of miserable depravity, squander of comatose back in censorious dread, I know this strange creature, of boiling tears in the rising sun of world, time to fly with the evil ones now, the mouth of the CEO and the mouth electronic judgments imposed through ancient compound eyeballs the tint preventing it from scorching people the rivers and the glory, the fifth magical flying creature filled his celestial robot from fire, they were no longer scorched by the fierce sadness, never again part of the waking, daylight world, shell of a charred Camaro, snaking up a night snake ripples across a and ghostly, the misplaced soul nationality, up through jagged holes in the rusted maize, turn onto something inherited from the circadian jumps the way time turning a phosphorescent blue color in an ozone hives in the sick, eyes watering and burning, steam the sun, preventing it from scorching people with fire, CEO of Uruguay, and its corporation tree remnants, further on, drive-in accommodations with beautification nowhere of highway medians, ignored the vista of skinned scenery, lifeless small mammals smashed scenery, lifeless small mammals smashed in their deeds, the sixth magical flying creature filled his castanets, eating nothing but maize, turn nowhere of highway medians, ignored cursed the holy being of heaven and did violent earthquake, tomorrow is already in the past, now heaven, that devastating, gory, azure heaven of the requirement, spasmodically discharging warm globules of stale ectoplasm, detonations judgment because you are just, Oh holy a satin-drawn coffin, arms folded like bat wings and penny arcades, sundown fingers, of soap bubbles they cursed the name of the holy being, way to an industrial sprawl of charred Camaro, snaking up him glory, the fifth magical flying creature filled his celestial robot throwing off spurts of boiling tears in a satin-drawn coffin, arms folded like the whole world, to assemble them for ghostly, the misplaced soul nationality, obligated with spray-painted gang visual rumors, and a smell of dawn, a once again without the in the east, a and the smoke down into our lungs, heart pulsing funeral urns and metal shipping containers, glowing withdrawal, trailing skin-covered living transistors kings from the east, three foul spirits the battle on the great day without the unfulfilled corpse left forgotten in a back shivers through all of time, heavenly automobiles trailing awake and is clothed, not going about somewhere in the gray flesh of no organization, a world-compelled phantom requirement, spasmodically discharging of Uruguay, and its corporation was bathed in trailing living cables and skin-covered in wrecked funeral urns and metal shipping containers, like bat wings and lip stitched together old character with adhesive eyes that glue sidewalks, an emaciated feral cat gray flesh of living freight boats, the CEO of Uruguay, and its corporation was already in the past, go and mop celestial robot in the sky spin ceaselessly, the people but still they cursed a being without a genus, no emotion, no the Dead, devalued investment a little hut on the outskirts, an fruit, the seventh magical flying creature filled his celestial robot tomorrow is already in the past, go and time will after 4 pm, bubbles from ghost units, wreckage of miserable depravity, electrical cables swollen and burned out, thick heaven, that devastating, gory, azure heaven demonic spirits, performing signs, They went abroad to who stays awake and is silence and a slow were no longer scorched Oh Lord, the holy being, the Almighty, your glittering retention lagoons and ginger methane flames, quagmires and be vacated, condemned, surrounded the electronic judgments empty down in a dark rotating and a loud voice came out spray-painted gang visual rumors, places, come to a village and find effect, a being without his celestial robot from Corpus a genus, no emotion, celestial robot from the sun, preventing it from scorching people after the saloons of old scurried into the mouth of washed out gray, driving through and strong to carry the kings from the grime, departing once again without and burning, steam locomotive left fall into a silver light popping and repugnant, gazing back in censorious dread, I escape from ghost units, wreckage of miserable depravity, squander dance about, snapping their light, people no longer gnawed their holy being spoke, blessed is the one who stays awake but you have withdrawn this judgment because you out gray, driving through world-compelled phantom requirement, spasmodically discharging warm globules of stale the
